Psalm 123

P: I raise my eyes to fix my gaze on You, for Your throne resides in the heavens.

C: Just as the eyes of servants
closely watch the hand of their masters,

P: Just as a maid carefully observes
the slightest gesture of her mistress,

C: In the same way we look to You, Eternal One,
waiting for our God to pour out His mercy upon us.

P: O Eternal One, show us Your mercy. We beg You.
We are not strangers to contempt and pain.

C: We have suffered more than our share of ridicule and contempt from self-appointed critics who live easy lives and pompously display their own importance.

sermon

Mark 6: 1-13

6 Jesus went back into His own hometown where He had grown up, and His disciples followed Him there. <sup>2</sup> When the Sabbath came, He went into the synagogue in Nazareth and began to teach as He had done elsewhere, and many of those who heard Him were astonished.

Those in the Synagogue: Where did He gain this wisdom? And what are all these stories we've been hearing about the signs and healings He's performed? Where did He get that kind of power? <sup>3</sup> Isn't this Jesus, the little boy we used to see in Joseph's carpenter shop? Didn't He grow up to be a carpenter just like His father? Isn't He the son of Mary over there and the brother of James, Joses, Judas, Simon, and their sisters? Who does He think He is?

And when they had thought about it that way, they became indignant and closed themselves to His message.

Jesus (seeing this): <sup>4</sup> A prophet can find honor anywhere except in his hometown, among his own people, and in his own household.

<sup>5</sup> He could not do any of His great works among them except with a few of the sick, whom He healed by laying His hands upon them. <sup>6</sup> He was amazed by the stubbornness of their unbelief.

Jesus went out among the villages teaching, <sup>7</sup> and He called the twelve to Him and began to send them out in pairs. He gave them authority over unclean spirits <sup>8</sup> and instructed them to take nothing with them but a staff: no money, no bread, no bag, <sup>9</sup> nothing but the sandals on their feet and the coat on their back.

Jesus: <sup>10</sup> When you go into a house, stay there until it is time for you to leave that town. <sup>11</sup> And if someone will not accept you and your message, when you leave, shake off the dust of that place from your feet as a judgment against it. [On the day of judgment, that city will wish for the punishment of Sodom and Gomorrah.]
